

openSUSE KUDOS

“Recognition platform for openSUSE.”

A way to say thank-you before covid kicked in.

Roughly 35 DVD boxes sent to people who contributed to Leap release.

Got one? Raise your hand
please :-)

You took the Leap to 15.3!

Dear __USER__

You have been recognized by openSUSE Leap users as an exceptional contributor to the openSUSE Leap 15.3 release in our release retrospective.

We really hope that this e-thank you will make you feel special, because you surely are one of the kind!

__TEXT__

Thank you for making the openSUSE Leap 15.3 release happen.

Congratulations, and keep up the great work!

openSUSE Release team

Make sure to load all the cool images for this recognition. E.g. by pressing Ctrl+I in Evolution.

A way to say thank-you after covid kicked in.

open source press no longer produces DVD boxes. A private email with personalised message (similar to SUSE internal ovation)

Got one? Raise your hand please :-)

A way to say thank-you after the last SUSE Hackweek

Kudos aka openSUSE Recognition Platform

a project by lkocman

Updated 7 months ago. 7 hacker . 4 followers.

Description

Relevant blog post at news-o-o

I started the Kudos application shortly after Leap 16.0 to create a simple, friendly way to recognize people for their work and contributions to openSUSE. There's so much more to our community than just submitting requests in OBS or gitea we have translations (not only in Weblate), wiki edits, forum and social media moderation, infrastructure maintenance, booth participation, talks, manual testing, openQA test suites, and more!

Goals

- Kudos under github.com/openSUSE/kudos with build previews aka netlify
- Have a kudos.opensuse.org instance running in production
- Build an easy-to-contribute recognition platform for the openSUSE community a place where everyone can send and receive appreciation for their work, across all areas of contribution.
- In the future, we could even explore reward options such as vouchers for t-shirts or other community swag, small tokens of appreciation to make recognition more tangible.

Resources

(Do not create new badge requests during hackweek, unless you'll make the badge during hackweek)

🎉 Congrats! 🌟

What issues are we addressing?

- No more nice collectibles (like DVD boxes)
- There is only SUSE-internal recognition tool, so I can't really use it to recognize community friends.
- If people don't see then it then it's not very useful.
- Social media integration (matrix, linkedin, mastodon, facebook, X, ...) + matrix
- Recently reduction of noise while doing mass-recognitions
- The interesting badges are still granted manually ...
